

Coaches Profiles

Neil Gorman - Head PGA Coach

Neil joined Crown Golf in 2007 and has been in the industry for eighteen years. He qualified as a PGA Golf Professional in 1994 at Worplesdon Golf Club. He then moved to Hoebridge Golf Centre where he was a Senior Instructor for eleven years, covering all aspects of coaching and specialising in individual tuition, video analysis, group classes and short game.

Mark Allison - Academy PGA Coach

Originally applying his skills in Cape Town, South Africa, Mark has been with Crown Golf for the past 3 years. Mark has outstanding and imaginative communication skills and as an ardent student of the game his enthusiasm is infectious. Mark incorporates the holistic approach to golf coaching to ensure every golfer can reach their full potential. Mark is also the Junior Lead Coach at Sunbury looking after a growing junior section.

Andrew Morgan - Academy PGA Coach

Andrew has been a qualified professional for twenty one years, working at golf clubs in London and Europe. In this time he has developed a very knowledgeable understanding of the golf swing and is experienced in teaching all levels from beginner to tour player. He has established a successful Golf Academy giving both individual and group lessons. The area that he has specialised in during the last five years is the Junior Golf Programme. His coaching philosophy towards the golf swing is simple and concise, allowing the pupil to improve and enjoy playing golf.
